Day Habilitation Services

James V.C. & Anita Lambert Enrichment Campus
A new state-of-the-art facility, spacious core rooms, extensive therapy equipment and strong community volunteer programs are the hallmarks of this program.

Ballantyne
We designed Ballantyne to support the specific needs of older adults, including those with dementia. We provide participants with a host of engaging activities, like horticulture, fitness and music classes, and massage therapy.

Fairport
This innovative program offers extensive, wide-ranging services for those with autism. Autism specialists provide therapeutic services, fitness programs at the local YMCA, and utilize hands-on activities to develop people’s communication and social skills.

Henrietta
This home-like setting supports a small number of people with autism or similar disabilities. We focus on sensory and community-integrated activities like volunteering with Meals on Wheels and the Ronald McDonald House.

Community Arts Connection
This service provides a diverse array of offerings in the arts that encourages creativity and self-expression. Activities include a dance troupe, community-based musical group, and classes in the visual, fiber and literary arts.

Community Connections
At Community Connections, we spend half of the day volunteering in the community to build social dexterity and on-the-job skills, and the other half learning responsibilities and expectations in a team-based environment.

Community Exploration
A popular, non-traditional day habilitation service that enables people to be more independent. After a brief check-in for attendance, they then go out into the community, volunteer and participate in fun community events for four to five hours each day.

The Arc Silver Lining
The Arc Silver Lining is a retirement service for active older adults. This service offers a unique opportunity for people to gather and enjoy “senior life” in our community.

Arc Day Services:
Our day service offerings give people opportunities to learn new skills, build lasting friendships and give back to their community. We have locations throughout Monroe County that offer a unique setting and experience to suit every need.
